

LULU TYLER GATES.

Few readers have grown into greater popularity as quickly as Lulu Tyler Gates. Few readers are so worthy of it, for after all it is only the unusual talent that lives and grows in demand. Mrs. Gates is capable of giving an entire evening without a company, but for this season the Bureau has persuaded her to star at the head of a company of such artistic strength as to place them in advance of any popular concert company before the public. Of Mrs. Gates little need be said. The remarkable charm of her personality, the strength and richness of her voice, her enthusiasm as an artist, and her high appreciation of the best things in literature, all contribute to insure her unbounded success as a public singer.

Miss Edith Adams, the violinist, needs but little introduction, her artistic work on this difficult and noble instrument having already won the friendship of both press and public in nearly every part of the country. While in Berlin, she was a pupil of Robert Hausman of the Royal High School, and later was the protégé of the great virtuoso, Henry Kiefer of Munich. So interested was Mr. Kiefer in Miss Adams' talent that he invited her to make her home in his family, which made it possible for her to have almost daily coaching. During this time she won for herself the honor of being the best pupil of the greatest cellist of the day.

Graham Smith is a newcomer on the Lyceum stage. He is a basso cantante, possessing a particularly sweet and powerful voice, with a wide range at all times under perfect control. He has been a hard student under the best instructors, and has been most successful the past two seasons in special recital work.

William Erhart Snyder is a pianist whose intrinsic worth to the profession he has chosen is of the highest playing. He studied and taught four years with Hahn in the Detroit Conservatory of Music, four years with Sherwood of the Sherwood Music School, Chicago, and finished his studies with a course of two years under the tuition of the greatest instructor of the modern school of pianistic art, Theodore Leschetizky, of Vienna, at the same time taking a course in musical theory under Prof. Robert Fuchs in the Vienna Imperial Conservatory.

—Mr. and Mrs. Victor P. Moses have arrived home from a three weeks' visit in Arizona.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes left Thursday for a Portland visit. They were accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Bell.

—City water rent for November is delinquent after the 10th. Payable at the office in the City hall.

—Harry Cronise is in Portland and his position at the Corvallis and Eastern station is being filled by Clarence Albin of Philomath. Meantime, Bob Wilson is in charge of the Philomath office.

—If the government would buy the locks at Oregon City and make them free as ought to be done, a cent and a half would be added to the price of every bushel of wheat grown in the Willamette Valley, not only for one year, but for all the years to come. Willamette Valley farmers ought to demand it.

—A telegram has summoned O. V. Hurt to Seattle, and he is to leave this afternoon. The character of the emergency that occasioned the summons is not known. There has been no decision yet by the supreme court of the Esther Mitchell-Maud Crawford deportation case by the supreme court of Washington.

—Rev. G. H. Gibbs, pastor M. E. church, South, will preach next Sunday on the following subjects: At 11 a. m., "The Importance and Manner of Studying the Bible." At 3:30 p. m., "Doubters and Scorners." Sunday school at 10 a. m.; prayer meeting at 7 o'clock.

—Vineyard Brook, well known to all oldtime Corvallisites figured in an ugly accident at Hood River, Wednesday. With his family in a carriage, he drove aboard the ferry boat and the boat started across the stream. The horse suddenly began to back and before they could be stopped, had backed off the boat. Fortunately there was only three feet of water, and all escaped. Had the boat been a little further on its course, it would have been in 20 feet of water.

—The revival at the Christian church will close next Sunday evening. There have been fifteen additions to the church thus far. The audiences the past week have been good, notwithstanding the rain. Rev. Handsaker announced the following themes: Saturday evening, "A Pardoned Convict." Sunday morning, "How God Healed a Leper." Evening, "The Greatest question in the Bible." The male quartette will sing at Sunday's services.

—It is a true story and former Corvallisites were involved. A pious aunt was the guest of her niece. Her husband mowed the lawn on Sunday much to the annoyance of the niece who thought of the effect it would have on the aunt. "I am sorry my husband mowed the lawn this morning. It isn't often he does that sort of thing, you know. It probably annoyed you, dear auntie." "Oh, it was no worry at all, dear niece," replied the aunt. "Don't worry about that. It's no use. Your husband is lost, anyway."

—The Benton County Citizens League is to take a hand in the movement for government ownership of the Oregon City locks and free navigation of the Willamette. The matter was discussed at Tuesday's meeting and placed in the hands of the executive committee with full authority to act for the League. The committee has formulated plans of comprehensive character and is to begin at once a campaign of agitation. The opening of the Willamette means higher priced wheat, and a saving of freight charges on every pound of freight shipped in or out. Nobody is so deeply concerned in a free river as are the farmers.

—Temporarily, the Westside is the through line for the Southern Pacific. Ever since Wednesday evening the passenger trains and through freights that run on the Eastside north of Albany have used the Westside tracks, crossing between Corvallis and Albany via the C. & E. The condition is due to the loss of the railroad bridge over the Santiam at Jefferson. A new steel structure has been in process of being installed there and temporarily false work was used for the trains. Half an hour after a heavy train crossed the bridge Wednesday afternoon the false work went out, due to the swollen condition of the river. By the accident, 200 feet of steel bridge was dropped into the stream. It is estimated that a week will be required to get the bridge in shape to be used again. Meantime, through trains will use the Westside, except the Cottage Grove local, which does a transfer stunt at the washout. Two passenger trains each way and the regular through freights together with occasional extras keep the Westside tracks fairly hot, all, in addition to the regular Westside trains.

the lower house of the legislature. Reno, Nevada, Nov. 7.—Almost complete returns, from the larger precincts of the state show a sweeping democratic victory.

Concord, New Hampshire, Oct. 29.—The New York World of October 28 covered two pages with a sensational article, absolutely devoid of truth concerning Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy. The publication was received in this city, where its falsity and absurdity were immediately manifest, with indignation, and the following statements in refutation and contradiction of it were given to the press:

Mrs. Eddy is keen of intellect and strong in memory. She is a surprising illustration of longevity; bright eyes, emphatic expression, and an alertness rarely to be encountered in so venerable a person.—Mayor Charles R. Corning.

Mrs. Eddy's mind is not only unimpaired, but she exhibits the same clearness, strength, alertness and vigor which have so long distinguished her.—General Frank S. Streeter.

Mrs. Eddy has no cancer, or any chronic or organic or functional disease.—Calvin A. Frye.

Mrs. Eddy herself has driven in her carriage daily, with the exception of one day in the early spring, when the roads were so bad that she did not go out.—Lewis C. Strang.

I have seen Mrs. Eddy's carriage on State street almost daily. The occupant has always been Mrs. Eddy herself.—Hermann S. Heing.

I most emphatically say that Mrs. Eddy is in every way capable of conducting her business affairs.—Fred N. Ladd, Treasurer Loan and Trust Savings Bank.

I can state from personal knowledge that it is Mrs. Eddy, and no other person, whom I see riding in her carriage.—Josiah E. Fraaid, President National State Capital bank.

Rainier, Or., Nov. 6.—C. S. Van Auken, of this place, has brought suit against the National Surety Company and George Allen, its president, to recover $25,000 damages for false arrest and in connection with the robbery of the State Bank of Rainier. The robbery occurred on Labor Day, and Van Auken was arrested several weeks afterward, charged with having put up the job to conceal the fact that he was a defaulter. On his preliminary examination before the justice of the peace at Rainier the examination failed to make a sufficient showing in the opinion of the justice to warrant his being bound over to await the action of the grand jury. Opinion as to Van Auken's guilt or innocence has always been divided. The greatest factor in creating an impression of his guilt has been the knowledge that he frequented the gambling table at Astoria and elsewhere, and were it not for this fact the belief in his innocence would be very general, as prior to the robbery the people of this community had the utmost confidence in his probity. He appeared like a man of no bad habits, and had made many warm friends.

After his acquittal Van Auken strengthened the belief in his innocence by going to work in the Reed mill as a laborer.

The suit is brought in the United States circuit court, and will come up at the January term, D. J. Hayes of Portland, being counsel for Van Auken. Van Auken has thrown up his job at the mill, and took the morning train for Portland.

Portland, Oct. 6.—Portland Telegram: United States Circuit Judge William B. Gilbert returned this morning from San Francisco, where he has been holding a session of the United States circuit court of appeals. District Judge Wolverton will arrive Saturday morning and hold court Monday morning following.

Judge Gilbert says that the date of the return to Portland of Special Prosecutor Francis J. Heney is at this time doubtful. Mr. Heney, says Judge Gilbert, is a very busy man, and probably will be unable to return here by December 1, as originally intended. In addition to the press of business with which he is surrounded in connection with the grafting expose, he will have to go to Arizona some time this month to try an important case, unless he can arrange to have it continued.

"It may be, though," said Judge Gilbert, "that after Mr. Heney has laid his evidence before the grand jury, and in the event of indictments being returned, he will have time to come to Portland and resume the land-fraud trials before he cases in San Francisco are ready
